“A union is one of the highest forms of democracy because it’s the free will of the people – and the Employee Free Choice Act will protect that.”

A nurse for nearly 41 years, Cecile Martin is dedicated to providing the best patient care possible. In 1982, Cecile and her fellow nurses decided that organizing a union would meet their goals of better helping their patients, giving themselves a voice in how they were treated, and addressing low salaries for caregivers. Despite intimidation from management and even some physicians, Cecile and her coworkers voted overwhelmingly to form a union, and today, the nurses have “an equal relationship with management, which has improved patient care tremendously.” Cecile knows we need the Employee Free Choice Act to protect workers against management intimidation and to help “balance things out and tip the scales back toward the middle class.”

IT’S TIME FOR CONGRESS TO PASS THE EMPLOYEE FREE CHOICE ACT

Call Senators Snowe and Collins at 866-632-4160.

Tell them that you believe the economy should work for everyone, and that it is time to pass the Employee Free Choice Act.

The Employee Free Choice Act will help level the playing field by making it easier for workers to choose to form a union to bargain with their employers for better wages, health care and job security. The commonsense legislation will also help employees secure a contract in a reasonable period of time and toughen penalties against employers who violate the law.
